Oil Pan with seal and drain plug

During the production period of the models listed above, Mercedes-Benz have improved the design of the two-piece (lower/upper) oil pan fitted to these vehicles.

If a replacement of the oil pan is required, it is fundamental to correctly identify which oil pan is currently fitted before ordering. As a result, the original part number for the lower section of the oil pan must be identified before proceeding. This can be found close to the location of the engine oil level sensor.

If the original part number fitted to the vehicle is A651 014 16 02, which is no longer available from Mercedes Benz, then it can be replaced with febi 179061 for the lower section of the oil pan. Mercedes-Benz A651 014 02 00 will also be required for the upper section.

If the vehicle is already equipped with lower oil pan A651 010 29 13 then febi 179061 is compatible with the upper oil pan fitted to the vehicle.
